Principal Activities of the Company

Although a for profit entity, all activities of the company are in support of Halesowen College's strategic plan. The company encapsulates:

- Retail /Catering outlets for students
- Bistro@B63
- Cleaning, janitorial and grounds
- Sales and enterprise

The College provides contemporary food outlet retail facilities which are responsive to student needs. The College retail outlets offer a range of 'grab and go' based hot foods plus pre-packed sandwiches, salads, fruit pots etc and a range of drinks, snacks and confectionery. Starbucks

Cafés sell a range of drinks at competitive prices compared to the High Street. All of the retail outlets are marketed through the Munch or Elliott's branding. Goods connected with the provision of education; for example, art materials, stationery, IT and catering equipment are also sold together with logo products through the online store Halazon. The retail outlets participate in the Free FE Meals, 16-18 Discretionary Award and 19+ Learner Support Fund meal schemes. The Company adheres to the College values, and a policy of not selling chewing gum, tobacco, lottery or alcohol products is in place. Whilst the retail facilities offer a range of food influenced by the student voice, it always stocks and promotes healthy alternatives such as low fat snacks, yoghurts and fruit. It is a priority to offer students healthy options and make them 'treat aware'. The retail outlets provide goods to suit a range of dietary, cultural and religious requirements including gluten free, halal and vegetarian/vegan ranges. In supporting the College as a Leader in Diversity the retail outlets support the celebration of cultural diversity through displays and promotional offers.

The Bistro@B63 offered an alternative student catering facility during the day and then extends to a community dining experience in the evenings and weekends which is available to the general public. A range of Bistro evenings and special events such as Murder Mystery, Burns night and Caribbean themed dinners provide an excellent resource to the local community and most importantly an opportunity for hospitality and catering students to learn within a realistic working environment. During the pandemic the Bistro operated a takeaway and delivery service which was overwhelmingly appreciated by the community and raised the profile of the College. The Bistro also links with other curriculum areas to develop commercial training events such as pottery and cooking school. This enables local people to engage with the College for a leisure based learning experience which then may progress to accredited learning. Our full time and part time offer is also marketing through events for example, animal experience lunches.

The Company provides a full cleaning and janitorial service to Halesowen College. Staff work across all three sites to ensure a clean environment for learning and attractive grounds.

Commercial work may also have a broader scope in assisting in providing opportunities to work with a wider range of companies. College staff are involved in local forums and employer focus groups continue to be organised by Halesowen College. Much proactive work is ongoing to strengthen links with the local business community in order to determine the future educational and development needs of such organisations and provide relevant training on an ongoing basis. This links with the College's development of higher apprenticeships. The College is focusing on the delivery of apprenticeships in areas where there is a shortage of higher level skills; business and finance, digital and health care science, in accordance with government and local WMCA priorities. Engaging with employers to discuss delivery of training via these models may lead to companies also requesting bespoke training. The staff are relocating to our Skills Shop in the Cornbow Centre Halesowen to continue to forge the community ethos and promote the work of the College and how it can educate and train young people and adults. Through skills development the conditions can be created for enterprise to flourish resulting in greater prosperity for the area. Training will increase the skill level of the local workforce and Halesowen College aims to provide courses to match the needs of the sector in priority areas.

Halesowen College Enterprises actively advertises room hire through the website and targeted marketing in the community. Much income is through repeat business as customers have high levels of satisfaction. There are stringent controls in place for room hire to ensure that the College's responsibilities for safeguarding, including Prevent anti-radicalisation, are not compromised. Room hire is again part of the College's engagement with local groups in order to develop as the cornerstone of the community.

The company generates income from sales of hair and beauty products and dog grooming products.

Halesowen College Enterprises encompasses any other business activities which the College may undertake from time to time within the constraints of agency and statutory guidelines. The College reviews regularly that its activities are in the public benefit and meet the conditions of grant funding. Activities outside of this scope but central to the College's strategic plan may be operated by Halesowen College Enterprises Limited.

The Role of Company Directors

The College requires that directors fulfil their responsibilities as defined in law. The Companies Act 2006 defines the responsibilities of Company Directors.

Directors are legally responsible for running the company and have a responsibility to Companies House which includes ensuring information is lodged in a timely manner

Directors are in a fiduciary position and must act bona fide in the interests of the Company. The Directors who are in office on the date of approval of the financial statements have to confirm, as far as they are aware, that there is no relevant audit information of which the auditors are unaware. Each of the Directors must confirm that they have taken all the steps that they ought to have taken as Directors in order to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that it has been communicated to the auditor.

The College requires that all Directors make a written statutory declaration of interests annually which includes disclosure regarding Directors' emoluments, share options, long term incentive schemes and loans and disclosable guarantees. The rules governing Directors' duties have been codified in the Companies Act 2006. The Act also introduces a new statutory right for shareholders to exercise derivative action against the Directors. Previously Directors were subject to a variety of duties embodied in common law rules and equitable principles.
